Privacy

Welcome to Enabling Development Ltd's (we/us/our) website. This section explains our policy regarding any personal information the website user (you / your) might supply to us when you visit this site. Maintaining the confidentiality of our clients and their business is implicit in our corporate values.

We are committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected when using this website. Where we ask you to provide information by which you can be identified you can be assured that it will only be used in accordance with this privacy statement.

What we collect

We may collect the following information from time to time:

- name and job title
- contact information including email address
- demographic information such as post code, preferences and interests
- other information relevant to customer surveys and/or offers

What we do with the information we gather

We require this information to understand your needs and provide you with a better service, and in particular for the following reasons:

- Internal record keeping.
- We may use the information to improve our products and services.
- We may periodically send promotional email about new products, special offers or other information which we think you may find interesting using the email address which you have provided.
- From time to time, we may also use your information to contact you for market research purposes. We may contact you by email, phone, fax or mail.
- We may use the information to customise the website according to your interests.

Cookies

A cookie is a small file which asks permission to be placed on your computer's hard drive. Once you agree, the file is added and the cookie helps analyse web traffic or lets you know when you visit a particular site. Cookies allow web applications to respond to you as an individual. The web application can tailor its operations to your needs, likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about your preferences.

We use traffic log cookies to identify which pages are being used. This helps us analyse data about webpage traffic and improve our website in order to tailor it to customer needs. We only use this information for statistical analysis purposes and then the data is removed from the system.

Overall, cookies help us provide users with a better website by enabling us to monitor which pages they find useful and which you do not. A cookie in no way gives us access to your computer or any information about you, other than the data you choose to share with us.

You can choose to accept or decline cookies. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. This may prevent you from taking full advantage of the website.

Security

We are committed to ensuring that your information is secure. In order to prevent unauthorised access or disclosure we have put in place suitable physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect online.

Links to other websites

Our website may contain links to enable you to visit other websites. However, once you have used these links to leave our site, you should note that we do not have any control over that other website. Enabling Development Ltd cannot be held responsible for the security or privacy policy of other websites you may access through the Site.

Controlling your personal information

We will not sell or divulge customer information to any third party for any purpose, except as required by law.

Privacy complaints

If you have any questions regarding this policy, believe that Enabling Development Ltd has not complied with the provisions of this privacy policy or you wish to remove your personal data from our records, please e-mail us at privacy@enablingdevelopment.com

This statement of our privacy policy guidelines is not a contract.
